Bel canto (beautiful singing) opera roles are notoriously challenging and Donizetti's Lucia is no exception. Bel canto is an operatic style of singing, which flourished in Italian opera in the 18th and 19th centuries. As with many bel canto operas, the singing requires show-stopping high notes, long arias, and the ability to match register and tone of the voice to emotions.

A successful performance of Verdi's "Il Trovatore" is relatively easy, according to Enrico Caruso. All that is needed are the four greatest singers in the world. And Caruso was not really joking as that is exactly what the second installment of Verdi's middle-period trilogy truly requires. "Il Trovatore" first premiered on Jan. 19, 1853 and has been a major operatic {...}
